DECLARATION OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

WHEREAS, the President of the United States is the chief executive officer of the Government and is responsible for the execution of the laws; and

WHEREAS, the President is the commander in chief of the Army and Navy, and holds the office of the highest military authority; and

WHEREAS, the President is the representative of the United States in all international relations; and

WHEREAS, the President is the guardian of the Constitution and has the duty to see that it is observed; and

WHEREAS, the President is the chief magistrate of the Nation and is responsible for the administration of the Government;

ARTICLE II

Section 1. The executive Power shall be vested in the President of the United States.

He shall hold his Office during the Term of Years which, from Time to Time, may be limited by the Legislature, but he shall not be re-elected.

He shall, before he enters on the Execution of his Office, take the following Oath or Affirmation: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the Office of President of the United States, and will to the best of my Ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

Section 2. The President shall have the Power, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, to nominate and appoint, and to receive and accept of the Oath of Office, Ambassadors, Ministers, Consuls, Judges of the Supreme and inferior Courts, and all other Officers of the United States, whose Appointments are in his Power.

SECTION 3

He shall have the Power, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, to make Treaties, provided two thirds of the Senators present concur.

SECTION 4

He shall have the Power, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, to receive and accept of the Oath of Office, Ambassadors, Ministers, Consuls, Judges of the Supreme and inferior Courts, and all other Officers of the United States, whose Appointments are in his Power.

He shall have the Power, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, to make Treaties, provided two thirds of the Senators present concur.

He shall have the Power, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Senate, to receive and accept of the Oath of Office, Ambassadors, Ministers, Consuls, Judges of the Supreme and inferior Courts, and all other Officers of the United States, whose Appointments are in his Power.

THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

CHAPTER I

The first part of the history of the United States is the story of the early years of the nation.

- 1. The first settlers of the United States were the Pilgrims.
- 2. They came to the New World in 1620.
- 3. They lived in a small village called Plymouth.
- 4. They were helped by the Indians.
- 5. They grew corn and other crops.

The second part of the history of the United States is the story of the American Revolution.
